EDUCATION

- Ph.D. Department of Natural Resources, Cornell University (expected 2012)
Dissertation: Sense of Place in Urban Environmental Education
Advisors: Drs. Marianne Krasny (Chair, Natural Resources), Richard Stedman (Development Sociology), Scott Peters (Education), and Mark Bain (Natural Resources)
- M.S. Department of Natural Resources, Cornell University
2006 Thesis: Dissemination of Environmental Education Programs
Advisors: Drs. Marianne Krasny (Chair, Natural Resources), and Joseph Walther (Communication)
- B.S. Department of Environmental Management, Tomsk State University, one of the top five universities in Russia
2001 Major: Natural Resources and Environmental Protection, Honors Diploma

RESEARCH INTERESTS

I explore the impact of urban environmental education on sense of place among youth in the Bronx, New York City. My interests include: urban and after-school environmental education; community-based and participatory research; environmental stewardship and restoration; sense of place, social capital; green infrastructure, pro-environmental behavior; ecosystem services, human well-being; social-ecological systems and resilience.

SELECTED COURSEWORK

- Research Methods:* Qualitative Research Methods, Participatory Action Research, Quantitative Research Methods, Structural Equation Modeling.
- Social Dimension:* Environmental Strategies, Agriculture/Extension in Developing Countries, Community Education and Development, Pedagogy, Comparative Epistemologies, Leadership Development.
- Science Dimension:* Ecology, Urban Ecology, Agricultural Ecology, Natural Resources, Plant Ecology, Botany, Zoology, Chemistry, Environmental Conservation.

TEACHING

- 2011, fall Research Assistant, Department of Natural Resources, Cornell University.
Taught a new EPA-funded professional development online course “Environmental Education in Urban Communities.” Developed course materials and facilitated online discussions. Co-instructors: M. Krasny and A. Price. Syllabus: <http://alexk.name/docs/2011-Syllabus.pdf>
- 2011, summer Research Assistant, Department of Natural Resources, Cornell University.
Developed materials for a new online course “Environmental Education in Urban Communities.” Supervisor: Dr. Krasny.
- 2011, spring Research Assistant, Department of Natural Resources, Cornell University.
Developed the curriculum for a new online course “Environmental Education in Urban Communities.” Supervisor: Dr. Krasny.
- 2009, spring Teaching Assistant, “Society and Natural Resources” course by Dr. Stedman, Cornell University.
Graded student journals, exams and other assignments; held office hours; developed and delivered two lectures.
- 2008, fall Teaching Assistant, “International Conservation: Communities and the Management of the World’s Natural Resources” course by Dr. Lassoie, Cornell University.
Designed different tools to evaluate student performance, which accommodated different learning styles; graded research papers; held office hours.

- 2008, spring      Teaching Assistant, "Environmental Conservation" course by Dr. Fahey, Cornell University.
Developed the curriculum and conducted weekly discussion sections; organized field trips and co-organized an environmental exhibition at the Johnson Museum of Art; graded research papers.
- 2007, fall         Teaching Assistant, "Forest Ecology" course by Dr. Fahey, Cornell University.
Graded student research reports, exams and homework; coordinated weekend field trips to Adirondacks Park, NY and White Mountains, NH.
- 2007, spring      Teaching Assistant, "Environmental Governance" course by Dr. Wolf, Cornell University.
Developed and conducted weekly discussion sections with undergraduate students, held office hours and graded weekly writing assignments.
- 2002-2004         Instructor, "Environmental Education Methods" course, Department of Environmental Management, Tomsk State University, Russia.
Developed the curriculum and delivered lectures; organized teaching practicum for undergraduate students in public schools.
- 2002-2003         Field Course Instructor, "Environmental Practicum" field course, Department of Environmental Management, Tomsk State University, Russia.
Developed the curriculum and organized 4-week summer environmental practicum in summer 2002 and 2003 for environmental major undergraduate students in nature reserves and industrial facilities.
- 2002-2003         High School Teacher, public school #28, Tomsk Russia.
Taught 10th grade biology and environmental science in indoor and outdoor classes.
